

Town planners I

As individuals they are probably fine fellows but as a profession they should have stuck to making their own little Town planning has turned into a bitter farce. Bob Edwards once wrote the reason his paper did not list the faults of the Union government was that its opener was only a 4 page newspaper. For the same reason my ~~little magazine~~ <sup>small</sup> lines down perhaps instead of their such ones on anyway I don't have to list that isn't going to attempt to list the faults of the town planners either. Their faults are obvious. They lie in the inconveniences suffered by millions of dwellers. ~~an overcrowded street with lanes of stalled traffic puffing out~~ disconsolately in a long line of stalled traffic <sup>carefully edged away</sup> breathing in the poisonous fumes of the car in front of them. They ~~can~~ can be seen in you know how most their faults are if you just try and remember when it was in <sup>between the major parent</sup> our city you stopped to smile or gasp at <sup>and was satisfied with</sup> their beauty. They are listed <sup>on the whole</sup> <sup>typical little</sup> when you look at our little children - laughless things with no place to run, easily in or sit and quietly play and think.

A very wise Calgarian once without either malice or <sup>intent</sup> content condemned them.

He was <sup>scandal and special</sup> speaking of the beautiful cities of Europe. He <sup>of most attempts</sup> <sup>almost without</sup> <sup>caught said</sup> said of course they were all built before we had town planners.

The trouble with town planners is revealed in their <sup>own</sup> name. - they plan for the town not the people in the town.

requirement is that the planner and the action of the <sup>the planning</sup> committee or councils action <sup>information will city plans</sup> should be subject to appeal to the courts of law. At present if the planners do anything that has offends the individual ~~the~~ people only recourse is back to the person who made the <sup>plan or the board</sup> ~~law~~ and that of course is nothing but a farce!
It's like suggesting that if you have

Why Carter? write up of ~~planning~~ <sup>+ its professional requirements & purposes</sup> what would be impossible But I do suggest if we want towns that are built for people to live as comfortably as possible ~~we~~ we must return to the principal of people planners + throught.
<sup>current concept of a town planner</sup> There is only two known ways <sup>people</sup> individual rights have been found to protect their rights and they lie in a democratic government and ~~in~~ the courts of law.
The long evolved process of the elected government by which each individual & what is even more important the majority of individuals can obtain what they <sup>at</sup> feel will satisfy them and a court of law where an impartial tribune bound by the <sup>statute</sup> laws of an elected government and the great common law that was evolved to has changed will be times to protect an individual's rights <sup>is empowered to</sup> can enforce the individual's <sup>or people's</sup> rights grounds instead of turning our grounds into a proven beauty spot like Expo whose claim was its surrounding water they have accepted a plan that completely ignores the encroaching river and as for the poor lowly fate well Calgary is going to go down in history due to our planners as the only city in the world that used a beautiful river valley to run two throughways down at one or either side - unconnected except by bridges we can't afford - so they should

The reforms of the town planners suggested are simple + inexpensive + proven in the past. Council has only to pass 3 acts ~~one that confine planners to 10 years plans~~ ~~two ~~publish these~~ quit hiding behind~~ secretly endorsing + publish all plans prevents no elections + thereby grant an cost us nothing but it would mean we

I am

Frankly I can't enthuse over their billion dollar plans for the future when their efforts at a new mall are so pathetic. Every town in Europe & Mexico can manage a charming square - even Edmonton has one! Our boys didn't plan a mall for people at all! One of the <sup>accepted</sup> great joys of a mall is an outdoor eating area or one where you can sit without traffic whistling by. They <sup>carefully</sup> picked a block that doesn't have one restaurant in it. Secretly ~~it is~~ the joy of a mall is the freedom of movement - it's going to have to be a spy old gal that <sup>refuses to be so busy</sup> can dodge those busses, and when they suggest an overhead route - the well - Chicago used to have the "El" They spent a fortune demolishing that + you <sup>don't have to be a town planner</sup> can go to Seattle + see what happened to the shops under the monorail! ~~But no we have hopes~~ ~~we~~ ~~may~~ Faber's lovely river banks - what are they doing about that cheap natural asset they have right now what have they right now done - ~~will~~ ~~first of all they just recently with no~~ ~~they~~ ~~gave~~ ~~in~~ ~~to~~ ~~have~~ ~~allowing~~ ~~industry~~ ~~to~~ ~~dump~~ ~~locate~~ ~~their~~ ~~and~~ ~~dump~~ ~~their~~ ~~waste~~ ~~in~~ ~~it~~ - that's a short policy deal if I ever saw one. wait till the industries get sued + its inevitable pollution has to stop not be encouraged so they are planning against common sense + accepted ~~issues~~, at the exhibition

Town planning - should have to present their plan to the city council & if they can't accept it be reviewed as an appeal a court so it could then be appealed.

This

Town planning is done by an appointed by the city council & only appeal when trouble is revealed to back to the same group.

~~Should be~~
