Tips for tired mothers

Remember playing ^{with} the can. It was a wonderful ball game on a warm spring night. Modern children still play it ~~but~~ ^{with} a wonderful change. Now instead of counting to ten + ^{hurling} ~~boomerangs~~, The one whose ^{it} counts 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1. ^{at life top of us ergo} Blast off. In case you've ^{never played} ~~forgot~~ ^{had the good fortune to play it} this game to ^{to} all that's required to clear the house of children for an hour + get them reared for bed, is an old ⁱⁿ ~~cent~~ ^(troughs are real) ~~by~~ a process only children understand someone ^{to} ~~it~~. ^{that} He then covers his eyes + stands beside the can placed in the middle of the back yard. ^{when he counts down + yell of} Blast off he ^{begins} ~~searches~~ ^{searches} for the hidden ^{plays}. If the hidden ones job is to get back + give the can a good kick behind his back. If tagged when trying to sneak up to kick the can they ^{becom.} ~~are~~ "it" if not ^{but} ~~successfully~~ ^{as far as they can} ~~whollop~~ the ~~can~~ they yell blast off + everyone can stay hidden or hide again in a new place while the "it" replaces the can in centre yard + does a count down again + begins his search.

This is a delightful game. There's no substitute for the ^{satisfactory} ~~privilege~~ of kicking a tin can as hard as you can + being honored while doing so.

I'm amazed ~~psy~~ the modern analyst hasn't ~~labor up~~ the game for adults. He could probably much more satisfying ^{of working out frustration} than lying on a psychiatrist's couch for half an hour. It has a roller ^{of decreasing your frustration}

Partys for the "lille People"

3 to 4 years old.

This may be the most important party of their life. Ask the any adult & they will remember their ^{a child's} first party either its pleasantness or unpleasantness. ^{of all you have to do is look in the saaring eyes of the guests each} ~~I was fortunate I had a mother who understood~~

this

clubbing its gift + paning to go to realize what an advent this is in their lives

Simply buying them food, jamming them in a room with bought toys wont do. This is a big advent & it must live up to its billing. Something unusual must happen. This is a "special" day & the "special" must happen. ~~It is~~ What is special has to be something new! This is why ^{simply bought or made + given} bought hats, lots of food wont do.

The loving mother understands this, anything too ornate will ruin it. Keep it simple & concentrate on the big surprise. And keep it SMALL. So many persons confuse the lille ones. Be sure you ask their friends not yours and never mind if its the gardeners daughter or that friend you hate from across the street. But you beck & ask them.

Either consult thoroughly with the well hostess or hostess or keep it a complete surprise. Surprise partys are fun & easy to do. The surprise is your "SPECIAL". If you do consult with the child really consult. Dont mail invitations let them deliver them in person & at least 3 days ahead. ^{operate all conception is too much better than reality} Since ~~the~~ neither the giver nor the recipient can read ^{expensise} invitations with cule verses are just a waste of time. One of the culst is to just he a card on a two cent balloon & send "mine host" forth to deliver.

The food really isn't too important but what is important is it is unusual. The cake adopted the gift at the door play.

Now the question of whether to have hats or not depends on you. They look cute & they feel cute. However they can become expensive. If they are little girls try for an apron. They stay on better & they keep them clean. You can make them cheaply out of colored paper towels. Takes about 3 untorn ones. pleat them & tack them to a colored ribbon. Boys won't or shouldn't wear aprons. I ~~made~~ ^{made} clown suits for & if its all boys they don't want hats anyway. ~~It~~

You can make cute ones out of aluminum pie plates just bend them into & put old Christmas ^{might use Christmas} ~~tree~~ ^{tree} & use ribbons under their chins

Of course some made ones don't do for ^{status seekers} status seekers. The children aren't it is ^{one} you who ^{prepare to} ^{apart} ^{late} ^{10'} ^{EM} make them into it. If you feel up to coping with a little status seeker who has to have a convertible you can start now & buy them the best. Otherwise teach have fun with them & let them help make the hats

games are difficult

entertaining them is not easy. Have games before they eat & not after & don't introduce free or running ones unless you yourself are an ex-olympic star. If you have a bumper room or can do it outside musical chairs are OK - use up some excess energy.

If you know anyone who can put on a punch & rudy show that will help
