Registration fee: $10.00 or $20.00, depending on your income. (Includes Lunch)

1. We are seeking funds to purchase a MacIntosh computer for the centre; donations for that purpose will be welcome; you will receive a receipt.

2. Proceedings of the sessions will be published. If you wish to receive them, enclose an additional $10.00 with your registration.

Parking will be available in the area just east of the Education Building, or the parking lot east of 112 street.

The one door which will always be open is the one by the Education library, in the south-east corner of the building.

The University is now a non-smoking area. Please smoke only in the designated areas.

The Women's Research Centre is an institute for feminist research established jointly by Athabasca University and the University of Alberta in the fall of 1988. It provides to both universities' Women's Studies Degree Programmes and their outreach or Extension programming a focal point for theoretical, critical, and applied feminist research. It also provides these same dimensions to the women's community in northern Alberta, for the Centre is designed to be a place for feminist researchers to meet and work, and to assist each other with their research, whatever their organizational affiliation.

This Feminist Research Forum is the second such meeting. In it, as with others, we seek to bring together our diverse and long-standing interests in building a solid knowledge-base for understanding the position of women in our society and for determining possible paths of action for social change.

Thanks for agreeing to participate in a session of the second Feminist Research Forum. As you likely know, the Forum will begin on Friday evening October 27 with a presentation on Nellie McClung by Randi Warne. Following will be a wine and cheese. All other sessions will be held on Saturday, October 28. Sessions will be on the University of Alberta campus, in the North Wing of the Education Building, either in the amphitheater (2-115) or in the breakout rooms around the amphitheater (Rooms 2-117 to 2-141)

Enclosed is the forum brochure. Although there will be slight changes on Saturday, it is expected that all times of sessions will be as indicated. Your session is scheduled for Saturday at:

_____ o'clock in room # _____

We have asked most participants to speak about 15 minutes (the exception is the shorter time expected of the speakers on the Women and the Arts panel), to ensure that there is time for everyone in the room to comment and ask questions. That is, we have called this gathering a forum rather than a conference in an attempt to convey a meeting in which we all participate, rather than one in which some speak and others listen.

Although we have not termed every session a "panel", you should feel free to comment on other presenters research, to draw out generalizations, or to ask questions, as you would if you were a panel member or a member of the audience. If you are chairing the session, encourage this kind of participation from presenters and audience.

This year we plan to publish proceedings of the presentations. (You will notice reference to them on the brochure, with a price attached). Will you please make your remarks, or your paper, available to be published in those proceedings? We would very much like to receive the brief remarks which speak to a research idea which is still in the early stages of formulation, as well as longer papers. We will need to work out various details about your contribution, and please look for Pat Leginsky or Melody Burton at the Forum to discuss it with them. In the meantime, it would be helpful if you would phone our tape (492-8950) or give Pat, Melody, Mary, or myself a call if you have any questions.

Thanks again for joining us. We look forward to an enjoyable 24 hours in which we share our interest in women's research.

Marilyn Assheton-Smith.

Dear

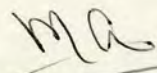

Thank you for agreeing to participate in the first Women's Research Forum of the Women's Research Centre. The Forum will begin with a talk by Dorothy Smith on Friday evening, October 21, and all other sessions are held on Saturday, October 22. All sessions are in the Education Building, North Wing, either in the amphitheatre (2-115) or in the breakout rooms around that amphitheatre (2-117 to 2-135).

Enclosed is a draft of the forum brochure. Although there may be slight changes on Saturday, it is expected that all times of sessions will be as indicated. Your session is scheduled for Saturday at

Dear Ms. Leginsky:

I am writing on behalf of the Honourable Elaine McCoy, Minister Responsible for Women's Issues, to request a statement of disbursement for the grant monies which were awarded to your organization last year from the Alberta Women's Secretariat Grant Program.

I would appreciate receiving this description of how the grant money was spent as we are in the process of updating our Grant Program files and would like to add this information to your file.

Thank you for your assistance with this matter. I look forward to receiving the information I have requested.

Sincerely,

Dear Ms. McCoy,

On behalf of Women's Research Centre I write this letter. The research centre is a cooperative venture between the University of Alberta and Athabasca University. A committee of seven women steer the operations of the centre. We have space in an old house just east of the University of Alberta campus.

This fall we are hosting the Second Annual Feminist Research Forum, October 27 and 28, 1989 on the U. of A. campus. Last year 120 women attended; this year we expect a few more participants. The major focus is bringing community and academic women together to discuss their common experiences in doing research. Research is defined very broadly and women are encouraged to present their ideas and dreams as well as their results and findings.

A rough draft of the brochure is attached to give you an idea of the type of topics for this fall's line up. It is shaping up to be a powerful and enlightening event.

The proposed budget is outlined below. We request that the Alberta Women's Secretariat help support the event by contributing some money to offset expenses. In particular, your contribution will go towards the costs of publicity, the gift for the guest speaker and subsidizing registration fees for women who are students, under or unemployed.

Dear Ms. Leginsky:

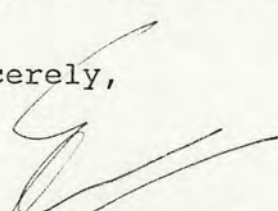

Thank you for your letter of September 27, 1989 in which you request financial assistance for the upcoming Feminist Research Forum.

I reviewed the conference agenda with much interest and feel that the broad range of workshop topics will encourage lively discussions about current feminist research in many important areas. By sharing their ideas and research interests, conference participants will truly be able to build "a solid knowledge-base for understanding the position of women in our society." Accordingly, I am pleased to announce a grant of $650 to the Women's Research Centre to be used toward the general expenses of this forum.

A cheque will be mailed to you shortly. Please provide me with a brief statement on the disbursement of the grant upon completion of the project.

I would like to wish you all the best for another successful Feminist Research Forum.

Sincerely,

Conference Funds Committee

Enclosed you will find an application form for the Conference Funds Committee and other material concerning support. Please read the guidelines carefully. An application may be returned for revision if the Committee find it to be unsatisfactory in some part or if further information is required.

All budgets should be balanced; that is, the revenues and expenditures should more or less coincide. It is the responsibility of the conference organizer to reduce expenditures when other sources of support do not materialize.

The Comptroller is unable to grant signing authority for trust accounts to a student or anyone else not permanently employed by the University because the University reserves the right to recover overexpenditures on trust accounts from the salary of the person who is granted signing authority. Students will need to make arrangements with a faculty advisor to accept this duty.

Please send the completed application form to the Office of Research Services, 1-3 University Hall.

UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA

Guidelines for Conference Grant Applications

The Conference Fund of the University was established in April 1967 to support conference and symposia (as distinct from visiting lectureships) sponsored or hosted by the University. The Fund is administered by a committee of General Faculties Council and is the only fund in the University for this purpose. All applications for grants should be submitted to the Office of Research Services, 1-3 University Hall.

The use of University facilities for major conferences does not fall under the jurisdiction of the Committee. Such requests should be referred to the Vice-President (Administration) for his recommendation to the Executive Committee of the Board of Governors.

The use of conference funds for the publication of proceedings is not encouraged, and requests for this purpose will receive a low priority. Applicants contemplating the publication of proceedings are encouraged to seek the advice of the University Press Committee well in advance of the proposed conference date.

The Committee has adopted several guidelines for its own use, as follows:

1. Travel and subsistence for participants other than those invited to give major papers will not be provided by the Fund. Normally, an honorarium is not provided for academic speakers. Where this is necessary, it should not exceed that which the University provides to external examiners for doctoral dissertations (currently $150).
2. Conferences may be held anywhere in the Province of Alberta but where they are held "off campus" support may be limited to the amount that would be required if held "on campus".
3. The size of grant depends upon the nature and size of the conference, and the availability (whether sought or not) of alternative sources of funds. Ordinarily the Committee limits its grants to maxima of $2,000 for conferences of international or national scope, and $1,000 for conferences of a regional or local nature. In addition, the number of registered participants will be taken into account in deciding upon the size of the grant.
4. Support may be provided through this Fund for student participation in conferences or for conferences sponsored by students or student organization. The application should be co-sponsored by a faculty adviser willing to undertake responsibility for the trust account.
5. Conferences of a consultative type will receive a low priority rating.

6. To ensure equitable distribution of funds, the number and amounts of previous grants made to faculties or disciplines may be taken into consideration in establishing priorities.
7. To ensure maximum use and distribution of the limited funds available, applicants are expected to explore other sources of support before submitting an application for assistance. Only grants under active consideration should be listed.
8. Applications should be submitted as early as possible and at least four months before the conference. A draft program must accompany the application. Applicants should note that it may take six weeks or so to consider and process an application and that, while later applications will be considered, action may be delayed and support cannot be assumed. Every effort will be made to treat applications expeditiously.
9. In view of the general stringencies relating to educational funds, the anticipated revenues for conferences should include a registration fee which reflects current costs and the benefits accruing to the individual participant. If student registration is to be subsidized, this should be reflected in higher fees for other participants, if necessary. The registration fee must cover all social functions and publications unless these are subsidized by outside grants.
10. Budgeted costs should be estimated as accurately as possible and reflect a balanced budget. It is the responsibility of the conference organizer to reduce expenditures or raise registration fees if anticipated revenues fail to materialize. There is no provision for a category of expenditure called "contingency" on the application form.
11. Do not include expenses of an entertainment nature in the budget. These items should be self-funded, and are not the concern of the Committee.

Revised August 1989

OTHER SOURCES OF SUPPORT

There are many sources of financial support for conferences. Some of the more common ones that have come to the attention of the Committee are as follows:

- (a) City of Edmonton, Corporate Communications Office Telephone

- (h) Social Sciences and Humanities Research Council of Canada
Box 1610
255 Albert Street
Ottawa, Ontario K1P 6G4

Assistance normally limited to conferences indirectly connected with the promotion, discussion and planning of advanced research in the humanities and social sciences in Canada. Deadline: June 30; October 30; March 30.

- (i) Edmonton Convention and Tourism Authority
Dennis N Holmes, Convention Manager
104, 9797 Jasper Avenue
Edmonton, Alberta T5J 1N9
- Telephone
426-4715

An expert group who will provide advice, consultation, promotional materials, and possible financial assistance. Knowledgeable about provincial and federal funding sources.

Only provide counselling on planning, arrangements, committee work, brochures, etc.

- (j) Other Federal, Provincial or City departments related to the particular conference to be held, eg, Agriculture, Lands and Forests, Indian Affairs and Northern Development, etc.
- (k) Other granting agencies sponsoring research or having a particular interest in a subject, eg, Smithsonian Institution interest in the Arctic, etc.

  2. Dates and duration October 27 and October 28, 1989
  3. Location Education Building, University of Alberta
  4. Sponsors Women's Research Centre (Athabasca University and University of Alberta) and the Alberta Women's Studies Association.
  5. Brief description (nature, purpose, importance, relation to the University of Alberta etc.)

The second Feminist Research Forum is primarily a forum of local researchers (University of Alberta, Athabasca University, Edmonton community). Its purpose is to enable feminist researchers to share their work, whether it is preliminary or finished, and to contribute to the development of a network of feminist researchers. It is important to the University of Alberta as it contributes towards the public profile of this institution in this burgeoning area of research and knowledge work.

This year's forum will feature historical research on "the person's case" in Alberta and Canada (as it is the 60th anniversary of this event), research for immigrant women and women in development, discussion of research in the Arts, applied and action research (in relation to childhood sexual abuse and women's social action groups in the community), and information which supports the work of researchers (on granting agencies, archival development, library work). (Also see brochure, attached).

Press Release

RE: Second Annual Feminist Research Forum to be held in Edmonton

Release Date: Immediately

Nellie McClung, one of Alberta's "Famous Five" involved in the Persons Case of 1929, is the keynote speaker for the Second Annual Feminist Research Forum. The forum will be held on Friday and Saturday, October 27 and 28, 1989 at the University of Alberta in Education North, Room 2-115. Registration begins at 6 PM on Friday.

Nellie will be portrayed by Randi Warne. Dr. Warne does a delightful rendition of the well known suffragette, displaying her writing and political activity and giving a sense of her life in the early part of the century.

The forum discussions will be in workshop format with three or four different workshops occurring at the same time, and each one lasting about 90 minutes. Researchers will be addressing a broad range of topics of special interest to women: immigrant women, women in visual arts, women and development, women and childhood sexual abuse and historical research.

All women are welcome. The forum is an opportunity to share information and to reflect on new knowledge and its impact on the lives of women.

Sponsors of the Forum are the Women's Research Centre and the Alberta Women's Studies Association.

Selection Committee for Dean: Faculty of Extension

An Advisory Selection Committee has begun its search for a Dean of the Faculty of Extension. The appointment will take effect 1 July 1990 or as soon as possible thereafter. Suggestions of possible candidates are invited. Since the incumbent, Dr Dennis Foth, is a candidate, the committee is also soliciting information about the administration of the Faculty as part of the normal process of performance review after five years in office. Comments are invited with this stated purpose in mind.

Nominations or applications for this position, accompanied in the latter case by a detailed résumé of qualifications and experience and the names of three referees, should be submitted by 17 November 1989 to:

Dr J Peter Meekison, Vice-President (Academic)
Third Floor, University Hall,
University of Alberta, Edmonton, Alberta T6G 2J9

Second annual Feminist Research Forum to be held on campus

On 27 and 28 October the annual Feminist Research Forum will be held in the Education Building.

Researchers at the forum will address a wide range of topics of special interest to women, ranging from historical research on Alberta's "Famous Five" women of 1929, through childhood sexual abuse, immigrant women, women and development and women in the visual arts. These discussions will be in a workshop format, with three or four different workshops occurring at the same time, and each one lasting about 90 minutes.

Friday evening's session (in 2-115 Education North) will present Randi Warne as Nellie McClung. Dr Warne, Folio is told, does a delightful rendition of the well-known suffragette, displaying her writing and political activity and giving a sense of her life in the early part of the century.

The closing session on Saturday afternoon will also be a plenary session, in which women from three women's action groups discuss the development of knowledge and strategy in their work.

Most researchers presenting will be from the Edmonton community, either working as independent researchers or within Athabasca University or the University of Alberta. Some presenters will, however, come from Toronto and the Women's Studies program in Calgary.

Sponsors of the forum are the Women's Research Centre and the Alberta Women's Studies Association. For more information call 492-8950. □

To help us plan and order food, please pre-register or leave a message on our answering machine at 492-8950.

Registration fee: $10.00 or $20.00, depending on your income. (Includes Lunch)

3 D 2 - Am 8 -
492 - 6767

1. We are seeking funds to purchase a MacIntosh computer for the centre; donations for that purpose will be welcome; you will receive a receipt.

2. Proceedings of the sessions will be published. If you wish to receive them, enclose an additional $10.00 with your registration.

Parking will be available in the area just east of the Education Building, or the parking lot east of 112 street.

The one door which will always be open is the one by the Education library, in the south-east corner of the building.

The University is now a non-smoking area. Please smoke only in the designated areas.

The Women's Research Centre is an institute for feminist research established jointly by Athabasca University and the University of Alberta in the fall of 1988. It provides to both universities' Women's Studies Degree Programmes and their outreach or Extension programming a focal point for theoretical, critical, and applied feminist research. It also provides these same dimensions to the women's community in northern Alberta, for the Centre is designed to be a place for feminist researchers to meet and work, and to assist each other with their research, whatever their organizational affiliation.

This Feminist Research Forum is the second such meeting. In it, as with others, we seek to bring together our diverse and long-standing interests in building a solid knowledge-base for understanding the position of women in our society and for determining possible paths of action for social change.

EXAMINATION RULES

1. You may not leave the examination area until one half hour has elapsed from the opening of this examination.
2. Address all inquiries to a supervisor.
3. Do not, under any circumstances, speak to or communicate with other candidates, leave your answer papers exposed to view, or bring into the examination area any textbook or memoranda not authorized by the examiner.
4. Please write on both sides of the page unless otherwise advised by the examiner, and strike out discarded matter. Do not write matter extraneous to the actual answer.
5. If you become ill or are otherwise incapacitated during the course of this examination, report at once to the supervisor in charge, hand in your unfinished paper and request that it be cancelled. Thereafter, if illness is the cause, go directly to University Health Service so that any subsequent application for a deferred examination will be supported by a medical certificate. The Registrar must be notified in writing of the circumstances within forty-eight hours of this examination.
6. If you need to visit the washroom during the examination, leave your paper in the custody of a supervisor and retrieve it upon your return.
7. You may not smoke during this examination.
8. When the signal is given, promptly hand your examination booklet to the supervisor in charge.
9. You may not claim extenuating circumstances and request your paper be cancelled after writing and handing in your examination for marking.

Re: Women's Research Forum, October 28/89

During the NAC meeting in May I asked Nancy Adamson of Toronto whether she would be interested in coming to Edmonton for the October forum, if I could arrange funding for her airfare. Since then I have formally invited her to come, but said that we had no budget attached to this event and it would only be manageable if she were able to book a seat sale ticket. I will be phoning her over the weekend to confirm with her that she still intends to come, and was able to get a cheap ticket. I should have that information by Sept. 20 at the latest.

In the meantime, I have asked Ellen Solomon for assistance, since Nancy works for the U. of T.'s sexual harrassment committee, and Ellen has committed $100 towards airfare, and a billet to avert accommodation costs. Canadian Studies can contribute $100 from our visiting speakers budget. If necessary, I will cover the balance of Nancy's airfare from my personal funds. However, I thought I would ask whether any small amount from your two programs--even $100 or $150 each--might be available.

I will get in touch with Pat Leginsky towards the end of the week to see where things stand with funding for the forum. If up to $250, or any portion thereof, could be found for Nancy's airfare I would be grateful, but if not I will understand, since the forum's organizing committee never held out the expectation of travel assistance.

Thank you for considering this request.

I notice that you have me in two concurrent sessions, and I don't see how I could choose between them — but if I do have to choose, I'll do the Persons Day thing, and Frances or someone else can chair the Archives.
It's just that I'd like to hear what Nancy Adamson has to say. Any chance of a shuffle in the program? Susan.

CORRESPONDENCE

TO Marilyn

DATE Oct 4/89

FROM Shirley

Many thanks for the note about the scheduling of the talk on research. I note your request for publication. I will not be publishing the talk 1) because it is not suitable for publication; 2) because when Winnie asked me to take the time from my McCalla to do this, I agreed on the firm understanding, that I would speak, not write a paper. However I'm sure this will not pose a problem.

Name the Women's Research Centre

Do you have a suggestion? We would like to name the centre after an Alberta woman who has contributed to social, political, or economic change for women. In a perfect world, she would have contributed to that change partly through a focus on research or "knowledge production", but given the imperfect world we live in she may well have either not done that, or not seen her work and life that way.

We have an excellent list of names from "the naming committee" (Doris Robbins and Nanci Langford), but before making a final decision we thought we would provide one more chance for others to contribute their ideas. If you have a name in mind, please write it on a piece of paper and give us whatever information you know about the woman (especially why you think the centre might be named after her). It does not have to be a well-known woman, for many women have worked for years and yet are "invisible" in the public or historical record.

Then put the paper in the "naming box".... and do sign your name.

Thanks!
