subject: Employment and Immigration Procedures Concerning Non-Canadian Distinguished Visitors Approved Under the Endowment Fund for the Future

With regard to the proposed visit of Dr. Dale Spender (London, England) and Dr. Alison M. Jaggar of the University of New Jersey, this is to remind you that the following Employment and Immigration procedures should be followed:

If your proposed visitor is currently a staff member at a non-Canadian university or other post-secondary institution abroad, he/she may be admitted to Canada either as a Visiting Professor or as a Guest Lecturer. Both categories are exempt from advance validation of employment (Form 2151). Your visitor must, however, obtain temporary employment authorization and may require a visitor's visa. Whereas Employment Authorizations which do not require Advance Validation of Employment may now be issued at a Canadian port-of-entry (as of December 3, 1984), visitor's visas for citizens of "Visa Countries"* must be issued by a Canadian Consulate or Embassy abroad.

The proposed visitor should therefore be advised to contact the nearest Canadian Consulate or Embassy to ascertain whether a visa is required. If it is not required, he/she may proceed directly to Canada.

When applying for employment authorization, whether at a Canadian port-of-entry or a Consulate abroad, the proposed visitor must be in possession of:

- (a) A valid passport (except for U.S. citizens and permanent residents who need only be in possession of identification confirming their citizenship/immigration status in the United States, e.g. birth certificate, S.I.N. card, naturalization papers, etc. A driver's license is not an acceptable item of identification.)
- (b) An appropriate invitation letter from the University of Alberta (see enclosure) indicating the intended length of employment and related honorarium or other form of compensation.
- (c) A statement from the home institution which confirms that he/she will return to a permanent position following the proposed stay in Canada.

Although Employment Authorizations for Visiting Professors and Guest Lecturers may now be issued at port-of-entry, it is nevertheless recommended that, if at all convenient, the documents should be obtained in advance from a Canadian Consulate (particularly if longer visits are involved) so as to eliminate potential problems on arrival.

Distinguished visitors who are not permanently employed staff members at post-secondary institutions, may not qualify for admission to Canada under the Immigration categories of "Visiting Professor" or "Guest Lecturer" and special arrangements may be necessary. In such an event, please contact me immediately.

Please note that your distinguished visitors should not be instructed to come to Canada as Guest Speakers, since the nature of the proposed appointment does not correspond to the pertinent Immigration definition.

Enclosed are sample invitation letters for Distinguished Visiting Professors and Distinguished Guest Lecturers. You are encouraged to use the suggested letters in order to avoid conflicts with Immigration terminology.

Suggested Sample Letter of Invitation for Distinguished Visiting Professors

Dear Professor [Dr.] .....

It gives me great pleasure to offer you a temporary appointment as a Distinguished Visiting Professor in the Department of ..... for the period .....

It is understood that at the end of your appointment at this university you will return to your permanent position as Professor of ..... at the University of ..... [home institution].

In order to comply with Canada's Employment and Immigration regulations, please contact the nearest Canadian Consulate or Visa Office (either by telephone or in writing) with regard to obtaining an employment authorization (Form I102). As a Distinguished Visiting Professor, you should be exempt from advance validation of employment under Regulation 20(5)(e)(iii), Exemption Code E40(c).

To enter Canada and obtain an Employment Authorization, you require (1) a valid passport*, (2) this letter of invitation, and (3) a statement from your home institution confirming that you hold a permanent position there, to which you will return when your appointment at the University of Alberta terminates.

Please also ascertain through the Consulate whether or not (1) you require a Visitor's Visa and/or a medical examination and, if you require neither, whether (2) the Employment Authorization can be issued at a Canadian port-of-entry (provided you are in possession of the above documents).

If you are advised in writing by the Consulate that your Employment Authorization may be issued at a Canadian port-of-entry, please mail us a copy of this information and notify us, in advance, of your expected date and time of arrival, airline, etc. We will then inform the Immigration authorities at this end so as to help in streamlining admission procedures when you arrive.

If you are married and accompanied by your spouse, he/she will not be permitted to work in Canada without advance validation by a Canada Employment Centre of a job offer received. Such validation can only be obtained under exceptional circumstances. Employment by the spouse should not, therefore, be anticipated.

If you are accompanied by school-age children, it will be necessary to obtain Student Authorizations (IMM Form I208) for them before they attend classes in Canada. These authorizations may be issued either by a Canadian Consulate abroad or by the Canada Immigration Centre in Edmonton upon presentation of a registration form from the separate or public school boards.

Provided you plan to stay for at least one full year, you should normally be able to obtain Alberta Health Care Insurance under the University's group insurance plan. You will be advised by our Payroll Department of the procedures to follow.

Yours sincerely,

Dear Dr. Barnes:

It gives me great pleasure to write on behalf of the Faculty of Arts, extending to you a formal invitation to come to the University of Alberta as a Distinguished Visiting Professor in the Department of Philosophy for a period of four weeks in March 1986.

As you know, Professor Matthen is arranging the program for your visit and he will supply you with any detailed information you may require, either about your schedule during your visit here or about the provisions that have been made for your accommodation while you are in Edmonton. I write to inform you more formally about the financial arrangements that have been made for your visit and about arrangements you must make to enter Canada.

The budget that has been approved for your visit is approximately as follows:

Honorarium	$2,000
Travel	$1,500
Accommodation	$975
Living allowance	$1,500	(@ $50 per diem)

These figures are based on current fares and on current exchange rates and of course will alter when those things do. Would you be sure to keep any receipts relating to your visit and to your stay here as a visitor; the University's regulations require submission of these with the travel claim at the end of your visit.

Citizens of the United Kingdom are required by Canadian immigration regulations to seek authorization of employment before presenting themselves at a port of entry. To do this you must present "appropriate documentation" at a Canadian consulate. (No doubt you know Canada House at Trafalgar Square.) The "appropriate documentation" consists of this letter, which is your formal invitation to come here as a Distinguished Visitor, and some evidence that you are permanently resident and employed in the United Kingdom. May I suggest that you perform this exercise reasonably well in advance of your proposed travel, so that if there are any difficulties we can correspond about them.

We do hope that you will be able to accept this invitation, and I join my colleagues in looking forward very much to having you with us. in 1986.

Dear Professor Avineri:

It gives me great pleasure to extend to you, on behalf of the Faculty of Arts at the University of Alberta, a formal invitation to visit the Department of Political Science, as a Distinguished Visiting Professor, in the fall of 1984 or spring 1985.

I know that Professor Qureshi and Professor Engelmann are arranging your visit with you and they will supply you with any information you may require, either about your schedule, or about provisions that are being made for your accommodation while you are with us. I write to inform you more formally about the financial arrangements that have been made for your visit.

The budget that has been approved for your visit is approximately as follows:

Travel, Jerusalem (Tel Aviv) to Edmonton return	$1,399
Accommodation	573
Food (21 days @ $30)	630
Honorarium (3 weeks @ $750)	2,250
Incidental expenses	100

Would you please be sure to keep receipts for your expenses while you are here as a visitor; the University of Alberta regulations require that these be submitted with the travel claim.

Canadian immigration regulations require citizens of other countries to seek authorization of employment before presenting themselves at a port of entry. To do this, you must present "appropriate documentation" at a Canadian consulate. The "appropriate documentation" consists of this letter, which is your formal invitation to come here as a Distinguished

Dear Dr. Bordo:

It gives me pleasure to write on behalf of the Faculty of Arts to extend a formal invitation to you to come to the University of Alberta as a Distinguished Visiting Professor in the Department of Economics for a two-week period in the September to December term of the academic year 1984-85.

As you know, Professor McMillan, Acting Chairman of the Department of Economics, is arranging the program for your visit, and he will supply you with any detailed information you may require, either about your schedule during your visit here or about the provisions that have been made for your accommodation while you are in Edmonton. I write to inform you more formally about the financial arrangements that have been made for your visit.

The budget that has been approved for your visit is approximately as follows:

your file:

On behalf of the Vice-President's (Academic) Advisory Committee on Women's Studies, I wish to nominate the following two individuals as Distinguished Visitors for the 1985-86 academic year:

Dr. Dale Spender

Dr. Spender holds a B.A. and Dip.Ed. from the University of Sydney in Australia and a B.Litt from the University of New England. She holds an M.A. from the University of New South Wales and a Ph.D. from the University of London.

She is based in London, England, and is the founding editor of Women's Studies International Forum, a multi-disciplinary and scholarly Women's Studies journal. She is a prolific writer and since 1980 she has authored or edited no less than eight books including the influential Man Made Language (1980) and Women of Ideas and What Men Have Done to Them (1982). She also has two more books in press and one forthcoming.

Dr. Spender is at the leading edge in terms of critical analyses of the ways in which women's ideas have been shaped, distorted and sometimes erased as a consequence of their less powerful position in the social construction of knowledge and meaning. The nature of her analysis has relevance not only to those in the social sciences but to those in the humanities and fine arts as well.

Dr. Spender's curriculum vitae is enclosed.

Dr. Alison M. Jaggar

Dr. Jaggar holds a B.A.(Hon) from London University, an M.Litt from Edinburgh University and a Ph.D. from S.U.N.Y. (Buffalo). She is a Professor of Philosophy and the Wilson Professor of Ethics at the University of Cincinnati. Presently she holds the New Jersey State Endowed Chair in Women's Studies at Douglass College, Rutgers University where she is also a Visiting Professor of Philosophy.

Dr. Jaggar is a political philosopher and in addition to her many articles, she is the author of two very well received books: Feminist Frameworks (with Paula R. Struhl) published in 1978 and Feminist Politics and Human Nature which was published in 1983. She has an international reputation for her work in political philosophy and feminist theory.

Dr. Jaggar's curriculum vitae is enclosed.

Also enclosed are the many letters of support we have received for both of these nominations.

In addition we have spoken with both Drs. Spender and Jaggar by phone and they are keen to come to the University of Alberta, each for a two-week period. We would like to have Dr. Spender here in September 1985 and Dr. Jaggar in March 1986.

BUDGET:

Dr. Dale Spender

Economy Airfare (London/Edmonton)	$ 750.00
Ground Transportation	100.00
Accommodation (14 nights @ $32.00)	448.00
Per diem (14 @ $50.00)	700.00
Honorarium	2,000.00
Total	$3,998.00

Dr. Alison M. Jaggar

Economy Airfare (Cincinnati/Edmonton)	$ 650.00
Ground Transportation	50.00
Accommodation (14 nights @ $32.00)	448.00
Per diem (14 @ $50.00)	700.00
Honorarium	2,000.00
Total	$3,848.00

Net Total $7,846.00

Please note, however, that we are seeking only one half of this amount from the EFF Fund ($3,923.00) since we are applying to an outside source (Women's Program, Secretary of State) for the remainder of the funding. Therefore, should our application be approved, the University of Alberta will be gaining two Distinguished Visitors for the price of one.

If you require further information, please do not hesitate to contact me at 2831.

Ann Hall

University of Alberta
Edmonton, Alta

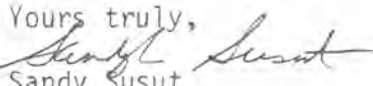

Dear Ann,

As Co-ordinator of the Women's Program and Resource Centre, Faculty of Extension, I would like to offer my full support for the nominations Dr. Dale Spender and Dr. Alison M. Jagger as Distinguished Visitors to the University of Alberta. Both of these women are internationally respected feminist scholars. Their work is well known throughout North America and Europe. The University of Alberta would be honored by their acceptance to come to Edmonton as Distinguished Visitors.

Having just experienced the visit of Dr. Margrit Eichler as a Distinguished Visitor to the Faculty of Extension, I can not overemphasize how important and useful such visits are. In addition to the sharing of new knowledge with the University community, women's organizations and the public at large, the impact of Dr. Eichler's visit included a request by the Honorable Walter McLean, Minister of the Secretary of State for a copy of her presentation. I can only anticipate that bringing Dale Spender and Alison Jagger to the University of Alberta would have similar positive impact.

The appointment by Dr. Meekison of the Vice-President's Advisory Committee on Women's Studies represented a recognition of the need for a focus in this area at the University of Alberta. The sponsorship of Dr. Spender and Dr. Jagger as Distinguished Visitors by this Committee will greatly further the work of the Committee as well as lend credence to women's studies on this campus.

The Women's Program and Resource Centre has strong connections to women's organizations and women in the community. I would be most willing to assist in the organizing of the visits of Dr. Spender and Dr. Jagger to ensure optimum contact with women in the community as they too would benefit greatly through exposure to the work of two such highly renowned feminist scholars.

Yours truly,

Re: Distinguished Visiting Scholars Series, 1985-86

I am writing to express my wholehearted support of your application to the Distinguished Visiting Professor program to bring to our campus two very stimulating and highly-regarded scholars in women's studies, Dale Spender and Alison Jaggar. Dale Spender's many publications (Feminist Theorists, Men's Studies Modified, and her most notable work, Women of Ideas) have gained her an international reputation, and contributed significantly to the development of feminist theory. Alison Jaggar's work, especially in Feminist Frameworks: Alternative Theoretical Accounts of the Relations between Women and Men, has similarly influenced and advanced the debate over gender relations in the United States, Britain and Canada. Both scholars will, I am sure, help all of us at the University of Alberta to appreciate more fully the intellectual challenges offered by feminist perspectives on the established curriculum.

Dr. M. Ann Hall
Chair, Vice-President's (Academic) Advisory Committee on Women's Studies

In reference to the proposed Distinguished Vistors for the 1985-86 academic year, the Women's Center would like to extend its full support for the selections of Dr. Dale Spender and Dr. Alison Jaggar. As a student feminist group on campus, the Women's Center looks forward to the visits of such world-class academics as Drs. Spender and Jaggar as a catalyst and inspiration for further Women's Studies on the University of Alberta campus.

Sincerely,

Barbara Eyles,
Representative,

DATE MARCH 28, 1985

As President of the Academic Women's Association and Vice-Chairman and Convenor of WISEST, a Task Force on Women in Scholarship, Engineering, Science and Technology at the University of Alberta, I wish to express my strong support for the initiative taken by the Women's Studies Committee to invite outstanding women scholars, in particular, Dale Spender and Alison Jagger, to present seminars and spend some time at the University of Alberta. In addition to generating an exchange of ideas and stimulating discussion, such visits would provide needed female role models for both undergraduate and graduate students. It has been our experience on WISEST that we have benefitted greatly from visiting speakers, both at the time of their visit, and in the longer term as contact with the speaker was maintained and a network between these female scholars and their counterparts at the University of Alberta was developed.

I wish the Women's Studies Committee every success with this program.

Yours sincerely,

Margaret-Ann Armour.

Dear Ann,

On behalf of the Women in Scholarship group (WIS) I would like to support very strongly your effort to bring Dale Spender and Alison M. Jaggar to our campus as Distinguished Visitors. The presence of these two outstanding scholars will most certainly enhance the pursuit of our goals.

Sincerely yours,

Dear Professor Bercov:

I write to tell you that the Faculty of Arts warmly supports the nominations for Visiting Distinguished Professor of Dr. Dale Spender and Dr. Alison Jagger. These two visits, if approved, will comprise essential parts of a year-long program of lectures in Women's Studies which is being organized jointly by the Women's Studies Advisory Committee and the Faculty of Arts. The two nominations you have before you are of great interest to several Departments in this Faculty, whose staff and students have an established and expanding engagement in Women's Studies. Their visits have been planned as the opening and the close of a series of visits by eight distinguished feminist scholars from other universities in Canada and the United States. The other visits are of shorter duration, and these two are crucial to the series, since they will first initiate and then draw together an inquiry into scholarship in Women's Studies which, we feel, will be of great benefit to this Faculty and to the University community at large.

Yours sincerely,

Patricia Clements
