Dear Women,

Enclosed is a copy of a research report titled "In Search of Opportunity," which addresses the availability of education to women in Alberta. The study was completed last year for the Edmonton chapter of the Canadian Congress for Learning Opportunities for Women, and we are pleased to now be able to distribute the final copy of the report. It is a preliminary study in many respects and raises as many questions as it answers, but there is considerable information in it about educational opportunities for women in Alberta. It is being distributed to a number of women's organizations in Alberta, as well as selected departments of government and educational institutions.

We have attempted to present our experience as women with education, rather than just observations about it, but of course we have had to describe a number of details about programs and opportunities. Available educational programs in Alberta are documented, and then a number of the barriers women face to these programs are described. The relationship of women's education to employment is analyzed, and a final chapter addresses some of the paradoxes of women's educational experiences and presents a series of recommendations. The data used in the report were collected from public sources, unstructured interviews with women, and questionnaires distributed throughout the province.

You are welcome to read and use this report in any way you see fit. Parts of it may provide a discussion guide in some of your groups; other parts may suggest specific actions you can take. You might also use it as a preliminary document for planning further research or information gathering that you would like to do in your local areas.

But in any case, do read the report or parts of it that interest you, and as we indicated earlier feel free to use it and/or comment to us about it. We would be delighted to hear from you.

University of Alberta.

Dear Ms. Leginsky,

I recently came across a research report entitled "In Search of Opportunity" and was favorably impressed. As the Treasurer of the Peace River Women's Group, I believe it would make an excellent addition to our women's library. Could you please send a copy of "In Search of Opportunity" to the above address? Thank you.

Sincerely,
Patricia Albers

Sandy

Here are a few pages from the RITE directory with people to whom the report might be sent circled in red.

Some of the people's titles have changed since the RITE Directory was published (particularly in Manpower) however the reports will get to them anyway.

If you need more suggestions - contact me again.
See you soon

Janina

Sandy, thank you very much for letting me have a preview of your report, which I have skimmed with much interest and return herewith. I look forward to seeing a copy when you are able to spare one.

I think that the information I am taking out would be very relevant as background to your more personal research, being data by Alberta Census Divisions, and some relevant to mature women in certain of our institutions already. I'll be happy to share it with you when it is readable.
