

June 14, 1993.

Dear M. Dolinsky:

We are sending you 10 copies of each of Cumulative
vol.#1-2-3 plus 10 of each issue of Vol.#4.

As far as Wilfrid Laurier University in Waterloo and the Library at St.Mary's University in Halifax are concerned, they should get vol #8 issues. We will send you payment for these at the same time as we will pay for Vol.#9, if it is OK for you.

Within three weeks, I will mail you a list of all the CRIAW members printed by province.

Hoping that this information will be satisfactory to you.

Yours Truly:

Marjolaine Côté.

Dear Marjolaine;

Thank you very much for your letter of June 14, 1993 and for forwarding the Cumulative issues of Volumes 1, 2 and 3 as well as 10 copies of each issue of Volume 4. These additions have been a big help in replenishing the depleted stock of CWPI back issues.

Due to technical difficulties, the final issue of Volume 8 (issue number 3) has been delayed. As soon as it is available, I will forward all issues of Volume 8 to St. Mary's University in Halifax and to Sir Wilfred Laurier University in Waterloo.

Payment for these subscriptions may certainly be included with payment for Volume 9.

Thank you for your kindness and consideration in freeing up these back issues/volumes for us and I look forward to receiving the updated CRIAW member's list you referred to in your letter.

Yours truly;

Women's Archives

Introduction by Susan Jackel

I work in the Department of Canadian Studies at the University of Alberta, teach women's history and write about the history of women in the Prairies. As a working historian I know that none of us can do our jobs without archives, documents and sources. In teaching the history of women in Canada, there are no textbooks and few articles and monographs and studies I can use. Similarly, there aren't a lot of books and articles about women in the Prairie Provinces. It is difficult to obtain other sources for my work. There are collections in the Provincial Archives and also in the Glenbow Museum and various other small archives and museums, but they're not well organized nor easy to access.

Last year, during a talk about writing women's history, someone said, "Do you know what happened to us last week? Someone came in and said they'd just cleaned out their cellar and thrown out ten years of records from Branching Out." Branching Out was a magazine published in the 1970s and early 1980s.) We realized the records of the Alberta women's movement were disappearing. In keeping with this realization, this session addresses the more general topic of women's archives. Nancy Adamson, who's here from Toronto where she is a sexual harassment officer at the University of Toronto, will describe the Canadian Women's Movement Archives — how it got going and for what purposes. Then, Sheila Dunphy, representing the Northern Alberta Women's Archives Project, will describe the work she has been doing over the past summer and the next stages in that project.

Dear Joanne;

Re: Canadian Women's Periodicals Index

Thank you very much for forwarding the copy of your letter of February 18, 1993. I will attempt to explain what is/has happened!

Thomas J. Bata Library is an Education Institution Member through CRIAW which includes a subscription to the Canadian Women's Periodicals Index. Trent University has also paid for a subscription to Volume 8 of the Canadian Women's Periodicals Index. Therefore - two copies of each issue of Volume 8 were sent to you.

I have no record of any issues being returned, as indicated in your letter of February 18, 1993.

Volume 6, issue number 3 is currently on back order but should be available very shortly. I will be happy to forward issue number 3 of Volume 7 along with issue number 3 of Volume 6 as soon as it is available. Issue number 3 of Volume 8 (two copies) will be mailed to you, hopefully, within the next two weeks.

Please do contact me should you have any questions regarding the foregoing!

Thank you.

I am pleased to enclose all of the above except Volume 6, issue number one and Volume 8, issue number three.

We are currently out of Volume 6 issue one, however, it is on backorder and will be forwarded to you as soon as it is available. Issue number three of Volume 8 will not be available until early summer.

I am also enclosing an invoice in the amount of $256.80 and will look forward to receiving full payment by return.

I have no idea why it is less expensive to order individually rather than to order the complete "set"! We will certainly be looking in to this.

Thank you very much for this subscription and back orders, Barbara.
