To date the CRIAW/ICREF '91 Conference Program Committee has organized the submissions received into a provocative and entertaining series of panel sessions, individual presentations and discussion groups focussed in at least five general areas within the Conference theme: Global Vision/Local Action. DEVELOPING VOICE focuses on the various places in which women's voices are heard: literature, art, theatre, politics, education. WOMEN AND THE STATE will look at constitutional issues and the ways in which women are affected by legislation and how women affect legislation. POWER AND TRUST examines the ways in which women are changing hierarchical relationships in areas such as therapy and education. BODY IMPOLITIC investigates the way in which women's bodies are regarded both physically and politically; and WHOSE KNOWLEDGE COUNTS? examines the ways in which women's knowledge is collected, generated and often ignored.

Attached is a list of the submissions received and accepted to date with thematic designation, type of presentation (academic or community; panel/workshop or paper) and the language of choice.

The alphabetic and numeric symbols are as follows:

A - Academic
C - Community

E - English
F - French

1 - Women and the State
2 - Power and Trust (feminine pedagogy)
3 - Developing Voice (speaking out)
4 - Body Impolitic
5 - Whose Knowledge Counts?
6 - Occupational Hazards

The Ghettoized Professions

Doris Badir, Professor Emeritus, University of Alberta
P. Valentine, Nurse, Faculty of Nursing, University of Alberta
H. Olson, Librarian, University of Alberta Libraries
All are from Edmonton, Alberta.

Content: The growing complexity of the service professions, the move from a productive, material-based economy to a service-based economy requires that we understand the importance of the professions which service the "private" aspects of our lives. Presenters propose to examine the female-dominated or feminized professions of Nursing, Librarianship, Teaching, and Home Economics, with a view to social change and work toward removal of barriers which ghettoize.

Possibilities - Women's Bureau, Labour Canada
- Secretary of State, Women's Program (Reg.)
- Relevant to Alberta Labour
- Relevant to Alberta Career Development and Employment
- Relevant to Alberta Women's Secretariat

Can Others Really Do Our Marching For Us?

Karen Blackford, York University, Department of Graduate Sociology
North York, Ontario

Content: This paper addresses the issue of "objectivity" and discusses the ways in which a personal perspective on mothering and disability are relevant to the more global notions of family, health, and social policy.

Possibilities - Health and Welfare Canada
- Secretary of State, Persons with Disabilities (Reg.)
- Relevant to Alberta Health
- Relevant to Alberta Family and Social Services
- Relevant to Alberta Women's Secretariat

Teaching Racism: Our Different Classroom Experiences

Anne-Louise Brookes, Dept. of Sociology, St. Francis Xavier U.
Jaya Chauhan, Dept. of Sociology, St. Francis Xavier U.
Antigonish, Nova Scotia and
Edmonton, Alberta (as of May 1991)

Content: Examination of roles as black and non-black teachers teaching the same subject, i.e., racism, from a feminist perspective, and of their different experiences of, and perspectives on racism due to multiple and contradictory social positionings. Examination of the possibility that relations of domination may be perpetuated rather than eliminated.

Possibilities - Secretary of State, Multiculturalism
- Relevant to Alberta Education
- Relevant to Alberta Advanced Education
- Relevant to Alberta Culture and Multiculturalism
- Relevant to Alberta Women's Secretariat

Constructing Female Subjects in the Archive

Helen M. Buss, Canada Research Fellow and Assistant Professor,
Dept. of English, University of Calgary

Possibilities - Relevant to Alberta Culture and Multiculturalism
- Secretary of State, Women's Program (Reg.)

To Identify As Black In A Non-Black World

Jaya Chauhan, Dept. of Sociology, St. Francis Xavier University
Melody Sylvestre, Dept. of Sociology, St. Francis Xavier U.
Edmonton, Alberta (as of May 1991) and Bramalea, Ontario

Content: A black and a brown woman, both living with the dominant non-black Canadian culture, look at how identity politics inform a sense of self and at how divisions are created between individual women. They posit that women, despite their multiple and contradictory positions, will have to come together to reconstruct and organize our society differently to benefit all equally.

Possibilities - Secretary of State, Multiculturalism
- Relevant to Alberta Culture and Multiculturalism
- Relevant to Alberta Women's Secretariat

As yet untitled: Role(s) of Advisory Councils on the Status of Women

Katie Cooke, Research Consultant and Quondam President (1973 - 1976) of the Canadian Advisory Council on the Status of Women
Victoria, B.C.

Content: A comparison of the roles of Advisory Councils 20 years ago and now, an examination of the differences in circumstances, exigencies, and context in 1970 and 1991, and a look at the question of whether the context, the climate, has changed to the point where another form of action would be more effective.

Possibilities - Secretary of State, Women's Program (Reg.)
- Relevant to Alberta Women's Secretariat
- Relevant to Alberta Federal and Intergovernmental Affairs

As yet untitled: Women and disability

C. Ingrid Deringer, Graduate Student, Simon Fraser University
Coquitlam, B.C.

Possibilities - Health and Welfare Canada
- Secretary of State, Persons with Disabilities (Reg.)
- Relevant to Alberta Health
- Relevant to Alberta Family and Social Services
- Relevant to Alberta Women's Secretariat

See Clearly, Feel Truly, Act Quickly

Deborah J. Fleming, Stained Glass Artist and Art Educator
Black Point, Nova Scotia

Content: Using her own work as a basis, the presenter will discuss her own motivation as a feminist glazier, and that of women glaziers of the past, and explore ideas and issues of feminist visual imagery, and of future changes in art, artists, and audience.

A-V Needs: Slide projector, display easel

Possibilities - Canada Council
- Relevant to Alberta Culture and Multiculturalism

What Makes A Young Feminist? Exploring The Generation Gap Between Older And Younger Feminists

Danielle Forth, Fourth Year Women's Studies Student, U. of Alberta
Edmonton, Alberta

Content: An examination of the relationship between the experiences of adolescent girls, young feminists (18 - 26 years of age), and older feminists, and trends which indicate the likelihood of adolescent girls defining themselves as feminists.

Possibilities - Secretary of State, Women's Program (Reg.)

- Relevant to Alberta Women's Secretariat

As yet untitled: Language reform

Louise Goueffic, Executive Director, The Language Abuse Institute
Toronto, Ontario

Content: The paper addresses the necessity for changing the words to reflect today's economic and social realities more equitably and more realistically, and the radical changes that must take place to make women know and feel publicly identified as necessary co-creators of civilization and society, and to move toward a more just and kinder world.

Possibilities - Canada Council???

- Relevant to Alberta Education
- Relevant to Alberta Advanced Education
- Relevant to Alberta Culture and Multiculturalism
- Relevant to Alberta Women's Secretariat

As yet untitled: Ecofeminism

Jane Haslett, studying Ecofeminism in Australia
Edmonton, Alberta

Content: The presenter, keeping in mind her own location of economic, educational, and class privilege, will attempt to connect Canadian ecofeminism and ecofeminism in other parts of the world, and stimulate the creation of ideas for a possible local project in Edmonton.

Possibilities - Edmonton Community Foundation

- Secretary of State, Women's Program (Reg.)
- Environment Canada
- Relevant to Alberta Environment
- Relevant to Alberta Forestry
- Relevant to Alberta Economic Development
- Relevant to Alberta Women's Secretariat

Integrating Women's Studies Into Education

Zohra Husaini, Educational Foundations, University of Alberta
Edmonton, Alberta

Content: The presenter addresses the failure of women's studies to have an impact on education because women's studies have not been integrated into education, and argues for mainstreaming of women's studies dealing with gender issues into the traditional curriculum.

Possibilities - Relevant to Alberta Education

- Relevant to Alberta Advanced Education
- Relevant to Alberta Women's Secretariat

"Helping Professionals" - Apt Description Or Oxymoron

Heidi Janz, Dept. of English, University of Alberta, with Catherine Nelson-McDermott, Dept. of English, University of Alberta
Edmonton, Alberta

Content - Examination of some of the problems which arise when people in the "helping professions" overlook, under-estimate, or ignore the wishes and plans, along with the potential, of female "disabled" clients, and discussion of the potential positive influence when their autonomy is recognized.

Possibilities - Health and Welfare Canada

- Secretary of State, Persons with Disabilities (Reg.)
- Relevant to Alberta Health
- Relevant to Alberta Family and Social Services
- Relevant to Alberta Women's Secretariat

Feminism From Afar: Crossing Cultural Boundaries

Ellen R. Judd, Dept. of Anthropology, University of Manitoba
Winnipeg, Manitoba

Content: Examination of the paradoxes of identity and difference implicit in Western feminist writing on women and the women's liberation movement in China, and of how the concept of feminism obscures the cultural politics of difference which is at the same time central to the construction of feminism.

Possibilities - Canada Council ?

The Self - Inside And Out

Didi Khyatt
Marian McMahan
Toronto, Ontario

Content: A discussion of how we differently and together attempt to make sense of our self and self-worth vis-a-vis our particular locations and within the histories that we respectively live. The presenters will examine how these histories limit possibilities and suggest that friendship can provide a forum for challenging those limits and removing unrecognized obstacles which diminish sustained struggles for justice.

Possibilities -

As yet untitled: Feminism and vegetarianism

Roslyn Kunin, Regional Manager, Economic Services, Employment and Immigration Canada, B.C./Yukon Territory
Vancouver, B.C.

Content: A discussion of the serious global environmental implications of meat-eating, and of the connection between meat-eating and women's issues. The presenter holds that a meat-eating society preserves the models that help keep a patriarchal society in place, and offers alternatives.

Possibilities - Environment Canada

- Agriculture Canada
- Health and Welfare Canada
- Relevant to Alberta Environment
- Relevant to Alberta Agriculture
- Relevant to Alberta Health

JUNE 19, 1991

CRIAW/ICREF'91 PROGRAMME COMMITTEE

1. Report from Agathe following her meeting with CRIAW National
2. Changes to brochure pursuant to national meeting.
3. Review of and decisions about new submissions/identifications of new themes
4. Registration and Noreen's hours and salary based on registration decision.

MINUTES CRIAW/ICREF PROGRAMME COMMITTEE
MONDAY, MAY 27/91

PRESENT: Noreen Bell, Barbara Roberts, Carol Murray, Barbara Spronk, Agathe Gaulin, Marcelline Forestier

Friday night crackerbarrel:

B. Spronk and B. Roberts will identify themes for discussion. We will require both French and English-speaking facilitators for the Friday night. Our aim is 30% French and 70% English.

Topics addressed by two keynote speakers should appear in brochure. Noreen and B. Roberts will try to confirm Glenda Simms as the other keynote speaker.

Need to confirm with Christiane if English version of Sylvie Van Brabant's film 'Remous' will be ready for conference. If not the committee would like the French version to be presented, possibly at the Colin Low N.F.B. theatre.

A short description of themes as well as a list of submissions will be prepared for Agathe to submit to CRIAW national at their June meeting.

B. Roberts submits a list of names of French-speaking women who may be interested in presenting a submission for the conference.

A suggestion is made that travel mugs with CRIAW conference logo be sold during the conference.
