15th Annual CRIAW Conference
Nov. 8-10/91 Edmonton, Alberta

Circle One: P(poor) A(Average) G(good) W(Wonderful)

1. THEME: Global Vision/Local Action P A G W
concept, realization, etc.

Comments The variety of expressions / topics supported this theme.
First key note good - but also a panel on Saturday
where the one on Sunday would have been very good →

2. SESSIONS P A G W
content, presentation, etc.
What was excellent or poor?

Comments TOO MANY!! This time was where I would have a chance to sample variety of local actions. You truly needed a third day to decrease the # sessions per time →

3. ACCESSIBILITY P A G W
physical use of space,
signage, timing, etc.

Comments Very comfortable forme -

4. MEALS P A G W
quality, quantity, etc.

Comments Very good. People serving were pleasant & food!

5. ACCOMMODATIONS P A G W
quality, service,
location, etc.

Comments The Westin is of course very nice - but as a person paying my own way completely - I could not afford a room there. CRIAW should also find a list of cheap accommodations as well,

6. OVERALL RATING P A G W
Comments

The Kaffeeklatsch was a wonderful way to have discussion / meet people - could have happened every day. Perhaps also →

① as the panel of international women was fascinating —
Glenda Sims: Great.

② period. Also - as a presenter - a brief anecdotal (re: topic) would have been nice in the catalogue.

Not clear why some people got 2 to a session and others 3 people? When 1 person in a 2 cancelled that really made imbalance in time eg: 1.2 - Ms. Greany's content not really need 1 1/2 hours.

Excellent? Antagonish: anti racism & Barriers or Bridges

Very interesting: Sunday pm. 4.12. Session.
Also: where from, on badges/name tags?

⑥ have speakers sit at tables in this communal visiting way - very next idea

Thanks overall —

I resent male politicians
who patronize a captive audience. The contrast between the platitudes ~~by~~ his speech
writer & which ~~he~~ ^(BB) delivered poorly & Glenda Sims only underlines
the waste of time that his speech caused. I would much rather have had the opportunity to explore ideas w women at the lunch table. Glenda Sims could also have used the time to educate,
entertain & motivate us.

concept, realization, etc.

Comments Concept is a good theme, but fell far short of realization.

2. SESSIONS (P) A G W
content, presentation, etc.
What was excellent or poor?

Comments Too much French / speaks late / not lead up to subject / one did not appear to have a written agenda of what s/he was to say, she spoke so low to be heard / often spent her time looking down at a paper on which she was doodling.

3. ACCESSIBILITY (P) A G W
physical use of space,
signage, timing, etc.

Comments Rooms allocated would hold much larger groups, if sessions had greater scope, they could have been filled. EXTREMELY POOR - late starts. As sessions were short, starting 15 to 30 minutes late means participants did not receive their money's worth.

4. MEALS P A G W
quality, quantity, etc.

Comments

5. ACCOMMODATIONS P A (G) W
quality, service,

Comments Display tables & resource tables fine (could have had more), coffee great unfortunately cold or lack of cream, danced the walk through "how we are persons".

6. OVERALL RATING (P) A ^{workshops} G W

Comments For too much, feel many could have been incorporated into one, to produce more global exposure. Having attended many conferences, I had expected much better. It was shocking to have no one who knew any answers to any questions.

*So after it's all over, then what?
Where do we go from here?*

1. Good, accommodating to allow some participants to attend only sessions applicable to their interest/work.
2. Was told an agenda update was in my bag, it wasn't.
3. Only one person knew there was a map at the end of the agenda to tell us where the rooms were.
4. No one knew where I was to turn in my hand-in.
5. Tables could have been coordinated in a "related" manner - i.e. all violence organizations at one table; all employment at another, etc.
6. One speaker had an assistant to keep track of her (or her subject?) there is potential in this kind of assistance - but in a different context

There are other items, but if you require assistance in your next conference, I would be willing to assist where able.

As an activist in a community organization, I have ongoing concerns about the separation between the "academy" and the "community." That separation is rooted in any number of factors (class, careerism, exhaustion ...) ... nevertheless, it is, in many ways, an ongoing disaster for the women's movement. Perhaps CRIAW could have a thematic conference on that subject.

Comments it posed the question and began the discussion around the myth of "sisterhood" - sisterhood is not global but rather we need to do the work to move towards global feminist action. it is not automatic

2. SESSIONS P A G W

Circle One: P(poor) A(Average) G(good) W(Wonderful)

1. THEME: Global Vision/Local Action P A G W
concept, realization, etc.

Comments The concept was definitely knitted into most themes. There is quite a lot of passion but perhaps it is healthy for our personal & movement growth.

2. SESSIONS P A G W
content, presentation, etc
What was excellent or poor?

Comments absolutely excellent effort at being inclusive. Given the time frame, it is remarkable how much was covered. Unfortunately time did not permit as much personal contact - Kaffer Klatsch was superb.

3. ACCESSIBILITY P A G W
physical use of space,
signage, timing, etc.

Comments It's a good space, unfortunately hotels are not the safest place for women to discuss crucial and heart wrenching ideas, thoughts, feelings. There was no wheelchair ramps for emergency - only elevators.

4. MEALS P A G W
quality, quantity, etc.

Comments quite good especially the vegetarian content. Quality and quantity was quite good for a mass production effort.

5. ACCOMMODATIONS P A G W

Comments I'm wondering if such hotels, staff by (probably) poorly paid immigrants is the best place for women from the community and academe to network and share; it is quite pretentious.

Everything I attended / participated in worked well. My only suggestion for next year's organizers is to print
a more informative programme - { session titles, alas, don't indicate paper

what's really going on - what links individuals within a session.

I was lucky in my choices - but it was luck more than choice!
